Precious Wafer, City Administrator

A small taxing unit is a taxing unit that proposes a tax rate for the current year that is 50 cents or less per $100 of taxable value and would impose taxes of $500,000 or less from the current total values for the taxing unit. A small taxing unit must meet both conditions.

A small taxing unit required to calculate the effective and rollback tax rates but is exempt from the notice and publication requirements of tax code section 26.04 (e) that are applicable to larger taxing units. Additionally, a taxpayer is barred from seeking an injunction to keep the taxing unit from collecting taxes until it has complied with the requirements applicable to the larger taxing units. A small taxing unit is required to mail or publish a notice mandated by Tax Code Section 26.052 before adopting a tax rate or to mail, if is a city or county, it may publish the notice mandated by the Local Government Code. A small taxing unit is not required to hold a public hearing before adopting a tax rate.
